

LRA Worldwide, Inc. is a leading provider of performance measurement services in the hospitality and gaming industries. We employ a variety of innovative field- and survey-based data collection methodologies to help our clients not only better understand the guest experience they are currently delivering...but how to enhance it in the future. We don't stack reports – we deliver data and analysis designed to have a meaningful, actionable impact on the guest experience via a comprehensive approach to performance improvement.

Whether you are the CEO looking to improve performance across an entire portfolio, a marketing executive hoping to understand how to attract and retain high-value players or a Human Resources/Operations manager seeking immediate guest feedback and tools to improve associate performance, LRA can design the solution that works for you.
